The Bunker

CASE STUDY

Nominet

Colocation Services for .uk Domain Name Registry

The brief

Nominet operates at the heart of the Internet in the UK, managing more than five million domain names, making it the world's fourth largest Internet registry. With 3,000 members, 130 staff and a turnover of £14m, they play a key role at the heart of UK e-commerce.

In addition to maintaining the register of all .uk domain names Nominet offer a range of associated services, including renewing registrations every two years and administering transfers of domain names between parties.

As such an essential part of the UK's Internet infrastructure, Nominet have to place Availability and Security at the top of the agenda. When they were seeking a suitable location to house their critical systems for business continuity, that would both meet these high standards whilst still being cost effective, The Bunker were the company who met all the requirements.

Our solution

The physical security of the site, with its coiled wire perimeter fencing, MoD-trained Guard Dogs, 24/7 security, formal authentication procedures before you even reach The Bunker entrance, is formidable. When this is combined with the layers of resilience in the Power and Cooling infrastructure The Bunker were able to provide the necessary peace of mind.

The Bunker fit each suite to order so they are always able to meet the precise requirements of each client. Nominet were therefore able to have a suite with sufficient space for them to grow into, with space for a small desk, telephone and a fireproof safe.

The cage has also been flood wired with CAT6 cabling and has been fitted with Firetrace Fire Suppression System to allow localised suppression in the event of a fire within the rack.

The Bunker are looking forward to working with Nominet in the coming years to build additional resilience to their network and supporting this critical part of the UK Internet infrastructure.
